WOMEN CORE COLOUR

Core colours for women's footwear and accessories have a rich, decadent quality. The importance of red and yellow tones can be seen with ochre, red adobe and scarlet, and unisex colours such as inky navy, slate and black are also key. For the first time, the core palette also features a metallic, with silver working as a surprising new neutral for everyday wear in A/W 17/18.

Ecrú

ECRU

AW 17/18 sees a warmer version of previous season's whites, which works well in the transition between summer and winter, and brings to mind cosy textures.

Red Adobe

RED ADOBE

This warm, earthy colour can be used as a winter bright, and has a rich quality reminiscent of clay. It works well with suede and textured materials, bringing out variations in tone.

SCARLET

Scarlet returns as a classic tone, particularly for the China and Latin America markets. It is paired with neutral colours and has a youthful vibrancy that works well for high-fashion and luxury markets.

Navy

NAVY

Blue transitions from neutral territory to become a fashion colour for A/W 17/18. For footwear and accessories, inky blues look sophisticated and come to life with glossy and opulent finishes.

SILVER

Metallic silver becomes a core colour for AW 17/18, working for everyday items. This icy tone has a mirror finish or pearly whiteness and is particularly suitable for contemporary silhouettes.

Slate

SLATE

The importance of grey is one of the overriding messages for AW 17/18 footwear and accessories. This darker charcoal tone offers an alternative to black, with a heightened sense of sophistication.
